El Rancho de las Golondrinas presents:

3rd Annual Santa Fe Fiber Arts Festival

Saturday & Sunday, June 23 - 24, 2012 from 10 - 4

This is not your typical fiber arts market!

In addition to vendors, participants will be able to enjoy:

- Historical demonstrations of wool washing, spinning, dying, weaving and embroidery;
- Educational lectures on the history and types of textiles, weaving and other fiber arts;
- Hands-on crafts for kids, including making Gods-eyes, friendship bracelets and doing wet felting;
- The museum's flock of churro sheep.
- All this in the setting of a 300-year-old Spanish colonial ranch and living history museum, complete with
- 34 historic buildings, agricultural fields, a Museum Shop, education center and food available for purchase.

Admission to the museum for this weekend will be $8 for adults $5 for seniors and teens and FREE for children under 13.

There are 26 vendor booths available, which consist of 9' x 9' covered portals. These spaces have electricity, a banco and wall behind them with a 4' x 7' peg board for displaying items, for which you must supply your own 1/4" hooks. All vendors will need to bring their own tables, chairs (if you don't want to sit on the banco), fans or coolers, extension chords and covers to leave items overnight. (There will not be hired security overnight between the two days, and Las Golondrinas is not responsible for damage or theft of items; however, the grounds are locked and there are several staff members who live on the site).

Guidelines for being a vendor:

- Products that are appropriate to sell include:
  - Raw or spun wool or other natural fibers; Final Product Must Be Completed in the Southwest (tools exempt)*
  - Knitted, crocheted, woven and or embroidered art, garments and accessories (including basketry);*
  - Tools for fiber arts, such as spinning wheels, looms and needles, etc.*
- Products must contain at least 60% natural fiber
- Crafts must contain a hand-worked component
- A jury will review applications and accept vendors based on quality of work to keep duplications to a minimum

The booth fee is still just $30 for the two days! Once you are accepted, We will send you flyers to distribute to your friends and people in the fiber arts world. Please help us spread the word, and make this THE springtime fiber arts event in northern New Mexico!

Submission of Application to the Santa Fe Fiber Arts Festival Constitutes Agreement by the Entrant to the Rules and Regulations Set Forth in This Application.
